Item 4 – Advisory Services

We take a goal-oriented approach to financial advice. We utilize quantitative and qualitative methods to determine client goals, age, risk tolerance, investment experience, time horizon, net worth, and investment preferences. The gathered information is utilized to recommend an appropriate financial strategy and model portfolio. Advisory services we provide may include:

- Investment Strategy
- Asset Allocation
- Risk Tolerance
- Financial Planning
- Life Event Planning
- Portfolio Rebalancing
- Fund Selection
- Portfolio Monitoring

We may invest client assets according to one or more model portfolios developed by our team. We offer five model portfolio series; each series is composed of four portfolios with distinct objectives and risk tolerance levels. Risk tolerance levels include conservative, moderately conservative, moderate, and aggressive. We utilize a rules-based tactical asset allocations strategy for each model portfolio. We may buy, sell, or re-allocate positions based on market conditions. A tactical asset allocation strategy does not guarantee superior investment returns.

Our model portfolios are generally comprised of five to twelve exchange traded funds (ETFs). Each ETF provides exposure to specific asset classes: domestic and international equities, fixed income, real estate investment trusts, and gold. Below please find a list of each series:

- Core
- Income
- Inflation Protection
- Environmental, Social, Governance
- Biblically Responsible

Portfolios can be customized upon request or at advisor discretion. Custom portfolio may include a mix of mutual funds, ETFs, and/or separately managed accounts. Clients may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs for both our model and custom portfolios.

All accounts are established in accordance with our wrap fee program. A wrap fee program is an investment program that bundles the cost for securities transaction fees in the overall investment advisory fee. You should consider that, depending on the amount of activity in your account and the value of custodial, trade execution, advisory, and other services that are provided under the arrangement, the wrap fee may or may not exceed the aggregate cost of such services if they were to be provided separately or by others. Please see Appendix 1 – Wrap Fee Program Brochure, which is included as part of this Brochure for more details.

Advisory Services for Retirement Plans

We provide 3(38) advisory services on behalf of retirement plans and the Plan sponsors. As a 3(38) Investment Fiduciary, we are responsible for the selection, monitoring, and replacement of fund options for retirement plans. We work with Plan Sponsors to create an Investment Policy Statement (IPS) that details the methodology used to select Plan investment options and monitors and if necessary, replaces those investments. This includes:

- Assist in the preparation & maintenance of the IPS.
- Select Plan investment options.
- Establish & manage a Qualified Default Investment Alternative (QDIA)
- Avoid prohibited transactions and mitigate or eliminate conflicts of interest and disclose the same when appropriate.

As a 3(38) Investment Manager, we are only responsible for the investments we select and will not have any responsibility or liability in regard to other investments offered by the Plan. Plan Sponsors may offer an option for Plan Participants to utilize self-directed brokerage accounts. We will not manage assets held in such Brokerage accounts. We will not advise Plan Participants on any aspect of a self-directed brokerage account.

These services are provided by serving in the capacity as a fiduciary under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”). In accordance with ERISA Section 408(b)(2), the Plan Sponsor is provided with a written description of our fiduciary status, the specific services to be rendered and all direct and indirect compensation we reasonably expect under the engagement.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31st, 2021, we managed approximately $17,00,000 in client assets, all of which are on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 – Fees & Compensation

Advisory Fees for Individuals

Clients pay a 1.5% annual fee billed monthly in arrears pursuant to the terms of the client investment advisory agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of each calendar month. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor.

Advisory Fees for Retirement Plans

Plans pay a 0.50% annual fee billed quarterly in arrears pursuant to the terms of the Plan’s 3(38) investment agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of each calendar month. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor.

We will deduct our fee directly from your account through the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities. We will deduct our advisory fee only when you have given our firm written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. We will send you an invoice showing the amount of the fee. Further, the qualified custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly. These account statements will show all disbursements from your account. You should review all statements for accuracy. It is your responsibility to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the custodian's brokerage statement.

You may incur third party fees or expenses in connection with our advisory services. All fees paid to us for advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs, and separately managed accounts. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees are generally composed of a management fee and other Fund expenses. Polaris does not earn nor receive a portion of such fees.

For Clients in the Polaris Wrap Fee Program, all normal and customary securities transactions charges are included in the wrap fee. For more information on our Brokerage Practices please see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices and Appendix 1.

We do not charge fees in advance. Neither Polaris nor any of its supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees & Side-By-Side Management

Polaris does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services.

Item 7 – Types of Client

We provide investment advisory services to individuals, families, and retirement plans. We do not have a minimum account size requirement. The minimum account size requirement is negotiable at our sole discretion.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Polaris' investment analysis and research is grounded in tactical asset allocation and global diversification.

Tactical Asset Allocation (TAA) is an active management portfolio strategy. TAA utilizes a rules-based strategy that shifts the allocation of the portfolio based on quantitative factors and economic indicators. Quantitative factors and indicators include valuation and market momentum criteria. These criteria are derived from market data, third party research materials, and online research systems.

While TAA helps us evaluate and construct a portfolio it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets may lose value and may have negative investment performance. We monitor these quantitative factors and indicators to determine if adjustments to allocations are appropriate. More details on our review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts. We generally employ a long-term investment strategy for you, as is consistent with your financial goals. We will typically hold a security for more than a year but may hold for shorter periods based on the TAA strategy. A TAA strategy does not guarantee superior investment returns to that of other investment strategies.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. You should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. There is no guarantee that you will meet your investment goals. The following are some of the risks specific to our investment strategies:

TAA Risk

TAA may increase the risk of a portfolio. TAA engages in market timing which involves shifting allocations based on market conditions. This can result in frequent trading which may lead to a decrease in performance and/or increase in portfolio risk. TAA does not guarantee superior returns.

Market Risks

The value of your holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

ETF Risks

The performance of ETFs is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs have a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Mutual Fund Risks

The performance of mutual funds is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory, or disciplinary events involving Polaris or its Supervised Persons.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Evan Kulak is also an Investment Advisor Representative of Dough Wealth, LLC, a registered investment adviser. If you utilize the advisory services of Mr. Kulak through Dough Wealth, LLC, he may receive additional fees or other compensation in his capacity as an investment adviser representative. These fees would be in addition to any fees charged for the advisory services provided through Polaris Financial, LLC.

Michael McDermott is an Investment Advisor Representative of Dough Wealth LLC, a registered investment adviser. If you utilize the advisory services of Mr. McDermott through Dough Wealth, LLC, he may receive additional fees or other compensation in his capacity as an investment adviser representative. These fees would be in addition to any fees charged for the advisory services provided through Polaris Financial, LLC.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

We have implemented a Code of Ethics that defines our fiduciary commitment to each client. The Code of Ethics applies to all persons associated with Polaris. The Code of Ethics provides general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to our clients. We owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each of our clients. It is our obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics, but also to the general principles that guide the Code of Ethics. The Code of Ethics covers a range of topics that address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of the Code of Ethics please email Michael McDermott at mmcdermott@polarisportfolios.com.

Personal Trading with Material Interest

We allow our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of our clients. We do not act as principal in any transactions. We do not act as the general partner of a fund or advise an investment company. We do not have a material interest in any securities traded in client accounts.

Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

Polaris allows its Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities that we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a potential conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted, consistent with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Code, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons of Polaris may have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can potentially be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by thorough review and reporting of personal securities trades by its Supervised Persons for review by the Supervised Person's supervisor or the Chief Compliance Officer (CCO). We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information. In addition, the Code governs Gifts and Entertainment given by and provided to the Advisor, outside employment activities of Supervised Persons, Employee reporting, sanctions for violations of the Code, and records retention requirements for various aspects of the Code.

Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While Polaris allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders or traded afterwards. At no time will Polaris, or any associated person of Polaris, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Broker-Dealer Selection

Our advisory services currently rely on, and require clients to use TradeUp Securities Inc. ("TradeUp") which serves as a fully disclosed introducing broker to Interactive Brokers LLC ("IB"). "IB" is the execution broker, clearing broker, and custodian ("Custodian"). Polaris evaluates IB's services based on its fiduciary obligation to seek best execution, however, Polaris cannot guarantee that a client will receive best execution because Polaris does not control IB's brokerage practices. Polaris evaluates best execution based on the following criteria:

- Commission Rates
- Execution Capability
- Operational Capability
- Responsiveness & Communication
- Financial Strength
- Trade & Recordkeeping Practices
- Cybersecurity
- Comparison to other broker-dealer

Soft Dollars

Polaris does not have any soft dollar arrangements with TradeUp, Interactive Brokers LLC, or any broker-dealer.

Brokerage Referrals

Neither Polaris nor any of its related persons receive Client referrals from any broker dealers or third parties.

Directed Brokerage

All Clients are serviced on a “directed brokerage basis”, where Polaris will place trades within the established account[s] at Interactive Brokers. Further, all client accounts are traded within their respective account[s]. The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor’s own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client’s account[s]). Polaris will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the Custodian, Interactive Brokers.

Economic Benefits

As a registered investment adviser, we have access to the institutional platform of your account custodian. As such, we will also have access to research products and services from your account custodian and/or another brokerage firm. These products may include financial publications, information about particular companies and industries, research software, and other products or services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to our firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. Such research products and services are provided to all investment advisers that utilize the institutional services platforms of these firms, and are not considered to be paid for with soft dollars. However, you should be aware that the commissions charged by a particular broker for a particular transaction or set of transactions may be greater than the amounts another broker who did not provide research services or products might charge.

Aggregating & Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. Polaris will execute its transactions through the Custodian as authorized by the Client. Polaris may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular Client accounts. Accounts for the firm or associated persons may be included in the block.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Frequency of Reviews

Client accounts and securities are regularly monitored by our software, financial advisors, and principals. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually or more frequently depending on the needs of the client.

Causes for Reviews

In addition, to the Client's annual review, further reviews may be triggered due to:

- Client Request
- Changes in a client's life events, financial situation, risk tolerance, and/or macro conditions.
- Large deposits or withdrawals of Client funds.
- Changes in investment strategy

Clients are encouraged to notify their advisor or Polaris if any of the above listed changes occur or if a financial situation may adversely affect the Client's investment strategy.

Review Reports

Clients receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from Interactive Brokers. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account(s). Polaris also provides Clients with an online portal where they can view their account data and download their IB account statements.

Item 14 – Client Referrals & Other Compensation

Compensation Received by Polaris

Polaris is a fee-only advisory firm, who, in all circumstances, is compensated solely by the Client. Polaris does not receive commissions or other compensation from product sponsors, broker-dealers or any unrelated third party. Polaris may refer Clients to various third parties to provide certain financial services necessary to meet the goals of its clients. We make these professionals available to you as a convenience only and neither our firm nor persons associated with our firm are compensated if you engage these unaffiliated service providers. You are not obligated to work with the professionals made available to you by our firm and you do so at your sole discretion. We are not responsible or liable for any services provided to you by these outside professionals and any use of these other professionals by you will not affect the advisory fee you pay to us. If you choose to work with an unaffiliated service provider made available to you by us, you engage these other professionals directly at your own expense. These arrangements, and any related fees, would be separate and distinct from any investment advisory services provided by us. Likewise, Polaris may receive referrals of new Clients from a third-party.

Client Referrals from Solicitors

Polaris has entered into Solicitor Referral Agreements with several Intermediaries, whereby the Adviser compensates an Intermediary for referring Clients to Polaris. The Adviser may enter into Solicitor Referral Agreements with banks, credit unions, and other financial institutions, which may or may not be affiliated or associated with Polaris. A Solicitor Referral Agreement may create an incentive for an Intermediary to refer a prospective Client to Polaris, even if an Intermediary would not otherwise make the referral. Polaris may pay Intermediaries a flat fee or a percentage of the regular fee charged to the Client for services rendered by Polaris. In no instance will this result in higher fees being charged to Clients referred to Polaris. Polaris will not charge Clients any additional fees or expenses because of Solicitor Referral Agreements. Clients will receive a written disclosure statement regarding these arrangements in accordance with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act. A referral by an Intermediary should not be viewed by a client as an endorsement of the Adviser's services.

Item 15 – Custody

Polaris exclusively utilizes Interactive Brokers LLC to custody Client funds and/or securities. Polaris does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts, except for the authorized deduction of fees. Trade confirmations and statements are mailed to all Clients directly from Interactive Brokers, LLC. Clients are encouraged to carefully review confirmations and statements and to call with any questions/concerns. Polaris encourages Clients to review the monthly and quarterly statements provided by Interactive Brokers Group.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Polaris generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by Polaris. Discretionary authority will only be authorized upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client's execution of an investment advisory agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by Polaris will be in accordance with each Client's investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Polaris does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from IBG. The Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting. Polaris will assist in answering questions relating to proxies. Clients can contact their advisor either via email or phone with questions relating to proxy-voting and/or solicitations.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Polaris is required to disclose any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Polaris is not subject to any financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to its Clients.

Services

We take a goal-oriented approach to financial advice. We utilize quantitative and qualitative methods to determine client goals, age, risk tolerance, investment experience, time horizon, net worth, and investment preferences. The gathered information is utilized to recommend an appropriate financial strategy and model portfolio. Advisory services we provide may include:

- Investment Strategy
- Asset Allocation
- Risk Tolerance
- Financial Planning
- Life Event Planning
- Portfolio Rebalancing
- Fund Selection
- Portfolio Monitoring

We may invest client assets according to one or more model portfolios developed by our team. We offer five model portfolio series; each series is composed of four portfolios with distinct objectives and risk tolerances level. Risk tolerance levels include conservative, moderately conservative, moderate, and aggressive. We utilize a rules-based tactical asset allocations strategy for each model portfolio. We may buy, sell, or re-allocate positions based on market conditions. A tactical asset allocation strategy does not guarantee superior investment returns.

Our model portfolios are generally comprised of five to twelve exchange traded funds (ETFs). Each ETF provides exposure to specific asset classes: domestic and international equities, fixed income, real estate investment trusts, and gold. Below please find a list of each series:

- Core
- Income
- Inflation Protection
- Environmental, Social, Governance
- Biblically Responsible

Portfolios can be customized upon request or at advisor discretion. Custom portfolio may include a mix of mutual funds, ETFs, and/or separately managed accounts. Clients may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs for both our model and custom portfolios.

All accounts are established in accordance with our wrap fee program. A wrap fee program is an investment program that bundles the cost for securities transaction fees in the overall investment advisory fee. You should consider that, depending on the amount of activity in your account and the value of custodial, trade execution, advisory, and other services that are provided under the arrangement, the wrap fee may or may not exceed the aggregate cost of such services if they were to be provided separately or by others. Please see Appendix 1 – Wrap Fee Program Brochure, which is included as part of this Brochure for more details.

Compensation

Clients pay a 1.5% annual fee billed monthly in arrears pursuant to the terms of the client investment advisory agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of each calendar month. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor.

We will deduct our fee directly from your account through the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities. We will deduct our advisory fee only when you have given our firm written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. We will send you an invoice showing the amount of the fee. Further, the qualified custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly. These account statements will show all disbursements from your account. You should review all statements for accuracy. It is your responsibility to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the custodian's brokerage statement.

Performance-Based Fees

Polaris does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by Polaris are as described in "Item 4 – Services Fees and Compensation" above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client.

Polaris does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) and has no financial incentive to recommend any particular investment options to its clients.

Methods of Analysis

Polaris' investment analysis and research is based is grounded in tactical asset allocation and global diversification.

Tactical Asset Allocation (TAA) is an active management portfolio strategy. TAA utilizes a rules-based strategy that shifts the allocation of the portfolio based on quantitative factors and economic indicators. Quantitative factors and indicators include valuation and market momentum criteria. These criteria are derived from market data, third party research materials, and online research systems.

While TAA helps us evaluate and construct a portfolio it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets may lose value and may have negative investment performance. We monitor these quantitative factors and indicators to determine if adjustments to allocations are appropriate. More details on our review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts. We generally employ a long-term investment strategy for you, as is consistent with your financial goals. We will typically hold a security for more than a year but may hold for shorter periods based on the TAA strategy. A TAA strategy does not guarantee superior investment returns to that of other investment strategies.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. You should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. There is no guarantee that you will meet your investment goals. The following are some of the risks specific to our investment strategies:

TAA Risk

TAA may increase the risk of a portfolio. TAA engages in market timing which involves shifting allocations based on market conditions. This can result in frequent trading which may lead to a decrease in performance and/or increase in portfolio risk. TAA does not guarantee better superior returns.

Market Risks

The value of your holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

ETF Risks

The performance of ETFs is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs has a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Mutual Fund Risks

The performance of mutual funds is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor. Please see Item 8.B. – Risk of Loss in the Disclosure Brochure for details on investment risks.

Voting Client Securities

Polaris does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Soft Dollars

Polaris does not have any soft dollar arrangements with TradeUp, Interactive Brokers LLC, or any broker-dealer.

Brokerage Referrals

Neither Polaris nor any of its related persons receive Client referrals from any broker dealers or third parties.

Directed Brokerage

All Clients are serviced on a “directed brokerage basis”, where Polaris will place trades within the established account[s] at Interactive Brokers. Further, all client accounts are traded within their respective account[s]. The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor’s own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client’s account[s]). Polaris will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the Custodian, Interactive Brokers.

Economic Benefits

As a registered investment adviser, we have access to the institutional platform of your account custodian. As such, we will also have access to research products and services from your account custodian and/or another brokerage firm. These products may include financial publications, information about particular companies and industries, research software, and other products or services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to our firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. Such research products and services are provided to all investment advisers that utilize the institutional services platforms of these firms, and are not considered to be paid for with soft dollars. However, you should be aware that the commissions charged by a particular broker for a particular transaction or set of transactions may be greater than the amounts another broker who did not provide research services or products might charge.

Aggregating & Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. Polaris will execute its transactions through the Custodian as authorized by the Client. Polaris may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular Client accounts. Accounts for the firm or associated persons may be included in the block.

Code of Ethics, Review of Accounts, Client Referrals, and Financial Information

As noted above, Polaris has implemented a Code of Ethics that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with Polaris. Complete details on the Polaris Code can be found under Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading in the Disclosure Brochure (included with this Wrap Fee Program Brochure).

Review of Accounts

Frequency of Reviews

Client accounts and securities are regularly monitored by our software, financial advisors, and principals. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually or more frequently depending on the needs of the client.

Causes for Reviews

In addition, to the Client’s annual review, further reviews may be triggered due to:

- Client Request
- Changes in a client’s life events, financial situation, risk tolerance, and/or macro conditions.
- Large deposits or withdrawals of Client funds.
- Changes in investment strategy

Clients are encouraged to notify their advisor or Polaris if any of the above listed changes occur or if a financial situation may adversely affect the Client’s investment strategy.

Review Reports

Clients receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from Interactive Brokers. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian’s website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client’s account(s). Polaris also provides Clients with an online portal where they can view their account data and download their IB account statements.

Other Compensation

Please see Item 14 - Other Compensation in the Disclosure Brochure (included with this Wrap Fee Program Brochure) for details on additional compensation that may be received by Polaris or their principal owners. Mr. Kulak and Mr. McDermott’s Brochure Supplement (also included with this Wrap Fee Program Brochure) provides details on outside business activities and the associated compensation, as applicable.

Client Referrals from Solicitors

Polaris has entered into Solicitor Referral Agreements with several Intermediaries, whereby the Adviser compensates an Intermediary for referring Clients to Polaris. The Adviser may enter into Solicitor Referral Agreements with banks, credit unions, and other financial institutions, which may or may not be affiliated or associated with Polaris. A Solicitor Referral Agreement may create an incentive for an Intermediary to refer a prospective Client to Polaris, even if an Intermediary would not otherwise make the referral. Polaris may pay Intermediaries a flat fee or a percentage of the regular fee charged to the Client for services rendered by Polaris. In no instance will this result in higher fees being charged to Clients referred to Polaris. Polaris will not charge Clients any additional fees or expenses because of Solicitor Referral Agreements. Clients will receive a written disclosure statement regarding these arrangements in accordance with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act. A referral by an Intermediary should not be viewed by a client as an endorsement of the Adviser's services.

Financial Information

Neither Polaris, nor its management has any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of Polaris to meet all obligations to its clients. Neither Polaris, nor any of its advisory persons, have been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise. Polaris is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure, as the firm does not collect advance fees of $1,200 or more for services to be performed six months or more in advance.
